

Retraction and republication: The roles of a Grandmother in African societies – please do not send them to old people’s homes

The Editors of the Journal of Global Health

In the June 2019 issue of the Journal of Global Health published a viewpoint “The roles of a Grandmother in African societies – please do not send them to old people’s homes” [1]. After its publication, concerns were raised about the possible text similarity. A mutual agreement between the complainant, authors and the editors was reached to retract the viewpoint and publish the corrected version [2]. The corrections do not change the message of the viewpoint. In the Online Supplementary Document we include the letter from the authors, and the original article with authors’ annotations.

Additional material

Online Supplementary Document

REFERENCES

- 1 Michel J, Stuckelberger A, Tediosi F, Evans D. van Eeuwijk. The roles of a Grandmother in African societies – please do not send them to old people’s homes. J Glob Health. 2019;9:010306. Medline:31217948 doi:10.7189/jogh.09.010306
- 2 Michel J, Stuckelberger A, Tediosi F, Evans D. van Eeuwijk. The roles of a Grandmother in African societies – please do not send them to old people’s homes. J Glob Health. 2020;10:010362. doi:10.7189/jogh.10.010362